Ethiopian Natural Sidamo Grade 3 Guji Special – Hands down our best natural Ethiopian this year. The Grade 3 distinction means the coffee was triple hand sorted and more defects were removed resulting in a better cup than the traditional Grade 4. At a light roast the Guji delivered the fruitiness we were looking for, sweet and syrupy strawberry flavors with blueberry tones and chocolate-citrus notes at the finish. Great Ethiopians are hard to come by these days – be sure to get a bag before they disappear.

Guatemalan SHB Huehuetenango Limonar – Possibly the best “Huehue” we have received this year. A bright but sweet acidity features lemon, tangerine, and cherry notes at the start. The smooth, full body with chocolate notes on the finish leaves you wanting more....and more....

The Tanzanian Hope Project operates in the Mbeya region of Southern Tanzania, near the border with Malawi. The Mbeya region grows some of the finest arabica coffees in East Africa however processing the crop has always been a challenge because many farmers lack the water and equipment to bring out the full potential of their coffee. To assist these smallholder coffee producers, The Hope Project established 26 Central Pulping Units (CPUs) that buy red cherries and centralize the pulping and drying processes under strict quality control measures and supervision. The improved processing has enabled farmers to obtain better prices for their high quality coffee produced as a result of these enrichments. The Hope Project has also worked to provide reasonably priced fertilizer for farmers in remote areas, coffee seedlings for replanting, and health insurance for some of the factory workers - leading the way for continuing improvements in the lives of these farmers and the production of premium quality coffee.
